Linking disability advocates and elected officials
Advocating for those we love living with IDD since 2002

Your voice, your stories and your experiences are needed. Great strides have been made in improving the IDD system over the years because those served by the system and those who provide the services are willing to share their experiences to educate those making decisions.

Issues Such as Securing Targeted Case Management, Addressing the Waiting List and the Work Force Crisis are key areas of focus in the 2023 session, but there are other concerns and issues from families that need to be voiced.
